

M.J. Cresswell: Curriculum Vitae

- Full Name: Maxwell John Cresswell
- Born: 19 November 1939,
Wellington, New Zealand
- Nationality: New Zealand citizen
- Qualifications: BA University of New Zealand, 1960
MA (1st class honours in Philosophy) University of New Zealand, 1961
PhD University of Manchester, 1964
LitD Victoria University of Wellington, 1972
- Awards: Commonwealth Scholarship (United Kingdom) 1961-63
Commonwealth Universities Interchange Scheme Visitorship (United Kingdom) October-December 1979
Claude McCarthy Fellowship August-October 1988
Residence at Rockefeller Study and Conference Center, Bellagio, September 1988
Visiting Fellowship, Centre for Cognitive Science, University of Edinburgh, January-March 1992
Visiting Scholarship, St John's College, Cambridge, April-June 1992
Faculty Fellowship, Institute for Advanced Studies in the Humanities, University of Edinburgh, April-June 2000
Hägerström Lecturer, Uppsala University, May 2000
- Positions Held: Lecturer in Philosophy, Victoria University of Wellington 1963-67, Senior Lecturer 1968-1972, Reader, 1973, Professor 1974-2000, Emeritus Professor, 2001-
Member of the Centre for Logic, Language and Computation, Victoria University of Wellington, 2001-
Visiting Professor, UCLA January-March 1970
Visiting Professor, Universität Stuttgart, May-June 1976
Visiting Professor, Universität Konstanz, June-July 1983
Visiting Professor, University of Massachusetts, September-December 1989-1992
Visiting Professor, University of Bologna, March 1996
Visiting Professor, Colby College, August-December, 1996
Visiting Professor, University of California, Davis, January-March, 2000
Professor, Massey University, 2001, 2003
Visiting Professor, Texas A&M University, 2002-
Professor, University of Auckland, 2004-

- [159] Telling it like it isn't. The importance of falsity.
- [160] Even modal realists should do the best they can.
- [161] Ludwig and his friends.

In addition, I have contributed short reviews of articles to The Journal of Symbolic Logic, Mathematical Reviews and Zentralblatt für Mathematik. I am or have been on the editorial boards of the Journal of Philosophical Logic, Australasian Journal of Philosophy, Linguistics and Philosophy, Computational Linguistics, Linguistics and Computer Languages and Studia Logica.

Teaching Experience

My teaching at the Victoria University of Wellington was principally in logic, which I have taught at all levels. The VUW introductory logic course typically had over 100 students and the intermediate course around 40. The advanced course had between one and six students. I have taught courses on Greek Philosophy at all levels, covering the Presocratics and the metaphysical views of Plato and Aristotle. In the 70s I shared a course on 19th century philosophy in which I covered Whewell, Mill and Bradley; and from 1997-1999 I taught an intermediate epistemology course in which I covered Plato, Aristotle, Locke, Berkeley, Hume, Reid, Mill and Bradley. At Massey University in 2001 I taught a course in business ethics, assisted in a first-year practical ethics course, and contributed some lectures on Locke to a higher level political theory course. In 2003 I taught a course on civil/military relations for the Centre for Defence Studies at Massey University, and in 2004 I taught part of an undergraduate course in ancient philosophy, and a course on John Locke at the University of Auckland.

At the University of Massachusetts (Fall semesters from 1989-1992) I taught courses on modal logic and ancient philosophy, and graduate seminars on propositional attitudes, ontological commitment in natural language, meaning and use, and selected topics in semantics. I have lectured on the semantics of propositional attitudes at Konstanz (1983) and on the philosophy of language at Cambridge (1992). At Colby College in 1996 I taught an introductory and an intermediate logic course. In January-March 2000 I taught an advanced undergraduate philosophy of language course at the University of California, Davis.

At Texas A&M in the fall semester of 2002 I taught a graduate course in the philosophy of language, and supervised a graduate reading course on Locke's Essay Concerning Human Understanding, and in 2004 I taught a graduate seminar on Locke at Texas A&M.

Administrative and Miscellaneous Experience

I spent three terms as chairperson of my department at VUW, in 1975, from 1985-1988 and from 1993-1996. I served on the VUW Fellowships Committee 1979-1988. In 1967 I was Secretary of the NZ Division of the Australasian Association of Philosophy and in 1968 and 2003 President of that division. I was a member of the council of the Association for Symbolic Logic for a three-year term from 1 January 1977, was President of the Australasian Association for Logic from August 1980 until August 1981, and President of the Australasian Association of Philosophy from August 1985 until August 1986. I have also been the New Zealand member of the Institut International de Philosophie.
